Isn't Tools
It's Thinking.

Create What Matters.

You've got the tools down Illustrator, Photoshop, all the essentials. You can create designs, no doubt, but something still feels... off.

When it's time to create a brand identity that actually stands out, design a poster that speaks, or present your work to a client, suddenly the confidence takes a hit. You've got the skills, but branding feels like a mystery, typography feels tricky, and your portfolio? It doesn't quite scream 'hire me!' yet. Let's be honest interviews, client pitches, and even talking through your design choices? It can feel like the toughest part of the job.

Sound familiar?

Let's turn those gaps into strengths and take your design skills to the next level.

What the Finishing Course Offers

The Finishing Course isn't just about learning software it's about using those tools for real-world projects. Over 7 hands-on days, you'll dive into logo design, brand identity, packaging design, typography, and more things you won't get from ordinary courses. You'll work on actual client projects, get personal feedback from industry experts, and walk away with the skills that'll set you apart in the design world.

This is where the Finishing Course comes in.

We know that learning design software is just the first step. The real challenge is applying those skills to real projects. How do you create a strong brand identity, design posters that work, and build a portfolio that gets you hired?

These are the things many new designers struggle with.

What You'll Learn

Brand Identity

The Heart of Design

Designing for a brand isn't just about making things look good it's about telling a story that connects with people. A strong brand identity brings together logos, colors, fonts, and imagery to show what a brand stands for and who it really is. In this course, you'll learn how to create a cohesive, meaningful brand identity from the ground up.

Logo Design

Creating Marks That Matter

A logo is often the first impression of a brand, and first impressions stick. In this course, you'll learn what makes a logo stand out how to keep it simple, versatile, and full of meaning. We'll show you how to design logos that not only look great but also tell a brand's story in a way people won't forget.

Packaging Design

Design That Sells

Packaging is more than just a box or a wrapper it's the first thing people notice, and it often decides what they'll buy. In this course, you'll learn how to design packaging that's not only eye-catching but also practical and meaningful. We'll walk you through everything from choosing the right materials to creating designs that tell a brand's story and connect with customers. We'll show you how to make packaging that stands out and sticks with people.

Building Your Portfolio

Showcasing What You Do Best

A portfolio is more than just a collection of your best work, it's a reflection of you as a designer. But building one that truly shows your potential can be tough. In this course, we'll help you select your best projects, showcase your creative process, and present your designs in a way that'll impress employers and clients. You'll walk away with a portfolio that'll make getting your next gig easier.

Mock Interviews

Owning Your Presentation

Presenting your work can be one of the biggest challenges for designers. Whether it's a client meeting, a job interview, or even just discussing a design with your team, the fear of judgment can hold you back. In this course, we'll help you overcome that fear with mock interviews, giving you the confidence to present your work clearly and convincingly.

Why This Course is Different

After mastering design software, many graphic designers hit a wall. You've spent hours in Photoshop and Illustrator, but applying those skills to real-world projects still feels unclear. Maybe your portfolio doesn't reflect your potential, or you're feeling intimidated by job interviews.

The Finishing Course bridges that gap. We focus on the practical side of design, offering personalized feedback to help you improve your work. With mock interviews and portfolio-building tips, we'll also prepare you for the business side of design, giving you the tools to succeed as both a designer and a professional.

Ready to Finish What You've Started?

The Finishing Course is for designers who are ready to take their careers to the next level. In just 7 days, you'll build a stronger portfolio and gain the confidence to present your work like a pro.

Don't let fear or doubt hold you back. Join us and unlock your true potential.
